Martinez Dec 22, 1912

Dear Miss Kellogg: With all my heart I wish you a happy new Year.

I've been in Berkeley three weeks with a typewriter getting Alaska notes copied & am now at work on them in my lonely old den: Of that better den we spoke of to stand near your home on the hillside

I think & dream every day.

But moving such a lot of old & new things, especially before I have all my notes duplicated seems a desperate job. The best thing about the trip to the next world is that there will be no baggage to bother about. How is your little book coming on, & your school. All well I hope.
May the New Year be truly good to you.

Ever your affectionate friend
John Muir
